

THREE APPARENTLY DOOMED TO DIE TONIGHT

NEW STRIKES REVEALED IN NEWS OF DAY

Schism Developing in Government of Ontario, Canada

(By The Associated Press)

Maritime and new Canadian strikes developed today as extensive unionization drives were pushed in many sections.

A general strike aimed at the International Mercantile Marine, one of the world's largest shipping firms, was declared by the American Telegraphists Association. Three hundred members of the crew of the Panama Pacific liner California began a sit-down at New York, and 500 dress makers were called out in Montreal by the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, an affiliate of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

At Oshawa, Ont., General Motors plant strikers looked to Detroit for next move toward ending their eight-day walkout. Premier Mitchell Hepburn of the province, foe of the John L. Lewis labor organization, said he had "no immediate intention" of calling a general election on the issue resulting from his ousting of two cabinet ministers in the Ontario row over the CIO and, terming the dominion policy "vacillating," announced the provincial government would assume full responsibility.

Call Three Strikes

Leaders of the CIO Automobile Workers Union, meanwhile, signed their final agreement with Chrysler Motors, turned their attention to conferences with the Packard firm, and called strikes in three tool and dye plants at Detroit to open their drive for recognition in that industry.

The strike of General Motors workers at Oshawa virtually was pushed into the background today by the Schism it created in the provincial government.

Premier Hepburn, who forced resignation of two cabinet members for disagreeing with him on the government's strike policy, was assailed as a dictator in a resolution adopted by United Automobile Workers Union members.

Fifteen union officers and sympathizers arrested after police and deputies evicted 120 sit-down strikers were released under bond.

Sign Textile Pact

The Viscose Corp., largest producer of rayon in the nation, signed an agreement recognizing the textile workers' organizing committee as sole collective bargaining agency for employees and providing for a wage increase. The pact, affecting 20,000 employees, did not provide for a closed shop.

A bus driver and passenger were injured by missiles thrown through a bus windshield at Muncie, Ind., in a new outbreak of violence in the bus drivers strike.

At Milwaukee 115 employees of the Yahr-Lange, Inc., wholesale drug company, celebrated achievement of their objective in a sit-down strike yesterday—retirement.

After Half Century

St. Louis, April 15.—(AP)—Fifty years ago parental objections prevented the marriage of Louise Apple and Henry B. Wahl.

Miss Apple later became Mrs. Henry Brockman, and Wahl also married. Both raised families.

Following Brockman's death in 1933, and Mrs. Wahl's death a year ago the couple met again.

The renewed courtship was climaxed in a wedding at Gumbo, Mo., yesterday. Wahl is 74 and his bride 68.

Iowa's Law Makers Moving About Their Chamber With Great Caution

Des Moines, Ia., April 15.—(AP)—Members of the Iowa House of Representatives moved about their chamber with caution today, fearful lest another skunk be tossed into the Capitol by an irritated farmer.

Yesterday a farmer tossed a dead skunk in the state House entrance after the Senate passed a bill providing a closed season on skunks in several counties including Warren, home of the angered farmer. After depositing a skunk, he went to a nearby telephone booth, called the statehouse and asked for a reporter and told him:

Masterpiece

Chicago, April 15.—(AP)—Chicago Art Institute connoisseurs attempted today to determine if a painting which an amateur collector bought for $5 was the one stolen from the National Art Galleries in Rotterdam, Holland, in 1844.

Both Robert B. Harshe, museum director, and Daniel Catton Rich, assistant curator of paintings, said the canvas was the work of Franz Peter van Bredael, a 17th century artist.

The painting, a festival scene in a setting of classic ruins, was purchased by Arthur Lloyd Jr., of suburban Oak Park, from a woman who, he said, was about to discard it.

ELECTRIC RATES AGAIN REDUCED BY I. N. U. TODAY

Third Cut in Charges for Service Effective Tomorrow

Another residential electric rate reduction, which will result in a saving of $31,000 per year to customers in the more than 120 communities served by the Illinois Northern Utilities Company will be put into effect tomorrow, it was announced by company officials today.

This is the third of a series of four reductions being made by the company in its progressive electric rate reduction program which was inaugurated two years ago. Including the present rate cut, the program so far has afforded savings to urban residential customers of $151,000 per year. When the fourth and final reduction is made effective on January 1, 1938, the savings will reach a total of $195,000 per year.

Room Count Eliminated

In addition to cutting the cost of service, the third step of the program, which is being put into effect now, eliminates the room-count basis for billing on the regular residential rate. Every customer billed under the new rate will pay for service in accordance with the following net schedule regardless of the number of rooms in his home:

First 12 KWH or less—$1.00 net.
Next 20 KWH—6c net per KWH.
Next 18 KWH—5c net per KWH.
Next 150 KWH—2½c net per KWH.
Over 200 KWH—2c net per KWH.

Special Feature

A special feature of the progressive rate reduction program enables any customer receiving service under the new schedules to obtain the final rate of the series, called the objective rate, at any time by sufficiently increasing his use of electricity. This rate, which now is being earned by more than 50 per cent of the company's residential customers, is as follows:

First 12 KWH or less—$1.00 net.
Next 38 KWH—5c net per KWH.
Next 100 KWH—2½c net per KWH.
Over 150 KWH—2c net per KWH.

Next January 1 the low objective rate will be available to all urban residential customers served by the company.

NEW SUPREME COURT SCHEME PROMULGATED

Plan Would Add Two Justices to Highest Tribunal

Washington, April 15.—(AP)—Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) introduced in the Senate today a substitute for the Roosevelt court bill. It would provide for an unconditional increase of two members in the size of the Supreme Court.

The Nevada senator has long been regarded as one of the "key" members of the Senate judiciary committee because he has remained non-committal on the president's proposal to enlarge the court by six members if those now over 70 years do not retire.

In offering his substitute, in the form of an amendment to the Roosevelt bill, McCarran refused to say whether he would support the measure if his amendment were rejected.

Evidence of additional pressure in the judiciary committee to close the long hearings on the Roosevelt bill was taken as another indication that the administration was urging its enactment.

May End Saturday

Members of the committee friendly to the bill, led by Senators Hughes (D-Ind.) and McGill (D-Kan.), were fighting openly to end the hearings Saturday.

Paul Shipman Andrews, dean of the Syracuse law school, told the committee in a prepared statement today the president's bill was "a long step toward destruction of our form of government."

New demands for enactment of the court bill came late yesterday from Secretary Wallace, Attorney General Cummings, and Postmaster General Farley in carefully-timed statements and speeches.

Three Timed Speeches

Wallace, after lunching with Roosevelt, said at his press conference that from the farmers' standpoint the court's decisions made "enactment of the president's plan of judiciary reform more imperative than ever before."

Wallace said business and labor had been granted the right to act nationally, but that agriculture, under the AAA decision, was "still legally a local problem."

Cummings, in a similar press conference statement, said:

"Four members of the court still stand as a battalion of death against all major social legislation, state and national."

Farley said in a radio speech that the decisions "accentuated the necessity of carrying out the president's court reform program in its entirety."

Hail Damage Around and In Polo Wednesday Eve; Storm Hit No. Illinois

Polo Greenhouses Suffered Most Severely

(Telegraph Special Service)

Polo, April 15.—The severe hail and rain storm which swept over the community west and south of Polo between 5 and 5:15 o'clock Wednesday afternoon did considerable damage to windows, broken panes being reported by J. W. Sweet, Mrs. Sam Landis, J. Wilson, Mrs. Louis Beard, Wm. Graehling, Mrs. Harry Chesman, Charles Dusing, Emory Ports and others. One local insurance adjuster reported 18 calls. Practically all the glass in five of seven sections of the Polo greenhouses was broken by the hailstones which ranged from pea size to that of a small egg.

Throughout State
(By The Associated Press)

One life was lost as wind, rain and electrical storms swept parts of Illinois yesterday. Roofless and flooded farm homes, washed out roads and railroads and disrupted power facilities resulted. Damage was expected to amount to many thousands of dollars.

Paul Marten, 30, of Ottawa drowned in an emergency drainage tunnel as he and another man sought to prevent debris washed down from a bluff from entering the tunnel. When an all-night search failed to locate his body an expert riverman was employed to drag the Illinois-Michigan canal, into which the tunnel emptied.

Part of the Burlington railroad tracks north of Ottawa was washed out by the rain storm.

Between McLean and Heyworth, Ill., the wind wrecked five farm homes and sheds last night.

Fred Becker, a farmer near Heyworth, was struck by flying timber and taken to Bloomington for treatment.

Flood at Marseilles

A heavy rain, lasting two hours, caused a minor flood at Marseilles. The waters of a dozen creeks, out of their banks last night, washed out roads and a hundred yards of Rock Island railroad track. Damage to homes and farm houses in the community was estimated at $20,000.

During the night Constable E. M. Olson telephoned to Lock No. 11 on the Illinois & Michigan canal below Ottawa, asking keepers to open the gates and facilitate drainage.

Water overflowed curbs and yards in Joliet and Ottawa.

Streets under viaducts on the south and southwest sides of Chicago were flooded, water backed up at the sewers in many sections of the city and street car and automobile traffic was retarded when an electrical storm and heavy rain and hail struck the city and its suburbs last night.

German Ambassador Asked To Explain Stand To Pontiff

Vatican City, April 15.—(AP)—Dr. Diego Von Bergen, German ambassador to the Holy See, was called to the Vatican today for a further explanation of his government's position in regard to the Catholic church in Germany.

Dr. Von Bergen was closeted with Cardinal Pacelli, the Papal secretary of state, for 45 minutes to discuss the note he presented Tuesday, described in Germany as a "vigorous protest" against Papal accusations in an Easter encyclical that the Reich had scuttled the 1933 concordat.

Prelates insisted, however, the Vatican did not regard the note as a protest but considered it merely an exposition of the German opinion of the delicate state-church controversy.

Spirited Bidding Boosts Prices At Saddle Horse Sale

Mexico, Mo., April 15.—(AP)—Spirited bidding boosted prices for horses in the second day of the thirty-seventh annual Jim Hamilton saddle horse sale here today. The auction of 320 horses will continue through Thursday.

A top price of $1500 was paid yesterday for Golden Eagle Taylor, a five-gaited stallion, by Charles Carmichael of Glen Ellyn, Ill. Night Wind, a three-gaited gelding from the stables of Claud Drew, Columbia, brought $870, bid by Carl Mayer, Niles Center, Ill. The first day's receipts totaled $78,000.

Anniversary

Springfield, Ill., April 15.—(AP)—Abraham Lincoln became a resident of Springfield one hundred years ago today.

On April 15, 1837, the young legislator left the village of New Salem on a borrowed horse to start the practice of law among the opportunities provided by Springfield's larger population of 1,500.

In debt, he roomed with Joshua Speed in a store. He soon became the law partner of J. T. Stuart, candidate for congress.

Twenty-four years later Lincoln was president.

Springfield did not observe the Lincoln centennial today. A formal celebration is scheduled for July.

REGULATION OF ROAD HOUSES IN LEE DISCUSSED

Judiciary Committee Talks Over Action Taken in DeKalb

A special meeting of the Lee county board of supervisors will be held at the court house Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The first order of business will be the seating of the newly elected members of the board and the election of a chairman to serve for the ensuing year. Supervisor David H. Spencer of Dixon, veteran member of the board, is said to be a favored candidate for the chairmanship.

The judiciary committee was in session at the court house today considering radical changes in the present road house regulations. No definite action had been taken by this committee at noon today, it was learned, but it was rumored drastic changes would be embodied in a set of resolutions to be presented at the special meeting on Monday. The judiciary committee discussed action taken Tuesday by the board of supervisors of DeKalb county, when resolutions were adopted, with but one dissenting vote, becoming effective May 1, which require all road houses to close at 12 o'clock midnight and not to reopen before 6:30 the following morning. The resolution also provided that road houses close their doors at 12 o'clock Saturday night and remain closed until 6:30 Monday morning, remaining closed throughout Sunday.

One member of the committee when interviewed this afternoon indicated that the same regulations might be expected to develop from the meeting being held today. The present committee's services will terminate with the organization on Monday, but it was intimated that resolutions would be drafted providing for the control of road houses in Lee county, to be presented to the open board at Monday's meeting, or presented to the incoming judiciary committee for their consideration at the special session.

Ask Repeal of Law Making Corporation Salaries Public

Washington, April 15.—(AP)—The House ways and means committee has recommended repeal of a provision of the income tax law under which all corporation salaries of $15,000 and more are made public.

Without a record vote, the committee instructed Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) to bring a repeal measure before the House.

Overgrown Dachshund

Kansas City, April 15.—(AP)—The cow was a freak. Her short legs gave her the appearance of an overgrown dachshund.

Elrod and William Shelleda, stockyard employees, bought her as an attraction. She gave birth to a calf a couple of heads taller than herself.

"We had to sell the calf," explained Elrod, "because it couldn't nurse the mother without lying down."

It's Four Times as Hard on Heart To Be Doctor as to Be a Laborer

Chicago, April 15.—(AP)—It is four times as hard on the heart to be a physician as a laborer or farmer, and twice as hard as being a banker, lawyer or clergyman, a physician reported today.

Dr. Harry L. Smith of Rochester, Minn., presented this evidence in a survey he made of the clinical records of 1,831 patients at the Mayo Clinic as to the prevalence of coronary sclerosis among physicians, bankers, lawyers, clergymen, laborers and farmers.

His findings on the subject of coronary sclerosis, which is the hardening of the nerves, ligaments and blood vessels around the heart, are contained in the April 17 issue of the American Medical Journal.

His study showed, he reported, that:

Of 307 physician's clinical records 107 per cent revealed incidence of coronary sclerosis; of 300 bankers, 53 per cent; of 304 lawyers, 46 per cent; of 306 clergymen, 46 per cent; of 306 laborers, 26 per cent; and of 308 farmers, 23 per cent.

EX-CONVICTS LOSE APPEAL TO GOVERNOR

Executions To Be Carried Out in Cook Co. Jail

Springfield, Ill., April 15.—(AP)—Frank "Doc" Whyte and Stanley Murawski apparently were doomed today to go to the electric chair for the slaying of a Chicago policeman as hopes of commutation of the death penalty all but vanished, and the Illinois Supreme Court refused to stay the execution of Joseph Schuster, a third Chicagoan, under sentence to die at Chicago tonight for the murder of a policeman.

Denying a motion by William Scott Stewart, Chicago attorney, asking a reversal of the trial court's refusal to postpone the execution, the court announced:

"It is tantamount to an application for a reprieve and this court is without power to grant it."

Asked Time to Appeal

Stewart asked time to appeal to the United States Supreme Court. The pardon board met at Joliet today to hear a request that a reprieve be granted by Governor Horner, who last night denied commutation for Whyte, another of the three former convicts scheduled to die in the electric chair after midnight for killing policemen.

Counsel for White yesterday asked that he be given executive clemency but Murawski apparently was resigned to his fate and made no effort for an appeal although time for it yet remained.

Claiming Schuster was promised a life sentence in exchange for a plea of guilty, Stewart presented his bill of exceptions to the Supreme Court in an effort to obtain a stay.

Whyte and Murawski were convicted for the tavern slaying of Michael Toth and Schuster for the killing of Arthur Sullivan on an elevated train platform, while seeking to evade arrest. All three men are former convicts.

Dummy Switches

Dummy switches—an innovation in the grim procedure of electrocuting condemned prisoners—will cloak the identity of the executioner.

Warden Frank Sain of the Cook county jail has added three dummy switches to the board in the death chamber so that none of four jail guards will know which has been assigned to the fatal switch.

MURDER AVENGED

Moundsville, W. Va., April 15.—(AP)—The state had avenged today the murder of Louis Thames, Windsor Heights coal miner.

Before a lull crowd of 50 persons Thames' slayer, 28-year-old Frank Pramesa, plunged to his death last night on the gallows at the state penitentiary.

Thames was shot last July 15 as he stepped from an automobile near his home. Pramesa, a neighbor, pleaded guilty last November.

In three successful appeals for short reprieves he implicated Thames' wife, Mrs. Pearl Thames, in a murder plot. At her trial, she denied the charge but admitted she had been intimate with Pramesa. She was acquitted.

Grand Jury to Get Lynching Evidence

Winona, Miss., April 15.—(AP)—Montgomery county officials said today they were conducting a secret investigation into the lynching of two Negroes at Duck Hill Wednesday by a white mob, and that their evidence would be laid before the grand jury now in session.

Two Negroes, Roosevelt Toombs and "Bootjack" McDaniels, were wrested from Sheriff E. E. Wright after they had been arraigned at the courthouse and were tortured and killed while chained to trees near Duck Hill, about 10 miles away.

The Negroes were accused of killing a white merchant in the robbery of a cross-roads store.

CHEMISTRY WILL PROVIDE MORE ABUNDANT LIFE

It is easy to think of more exciting things than a chemist making a speech on international trade. But when you stop to think how chemistry is remaking the world's future these days, and how the decline of international trade has us staggering around on the edge of the Dark Ages, you can see that such a talk might be worth listening to.

So it is worthwhile to have a look at remarks made recently by William J. Hale, research consultant of Washington, D. C., before a chemists' conference at Macon, Ga.

Chemistry, says Dr. Hale, is going to reduce world trade permanently, because it is teaching men how to substitute homemade commodities for the things they once had to buy abroad. When men start pulling nitrates out of the empty air, for instance, it is obvious that the old South American nitrate trade is never going to be the same again; and the atmospheric nitrogen fixation process is only a sample of the tricks of modern chemistry.

Do we, then, face a steady decline in world prosperity due to this decline in the interchange of goods? Not at all, says Dr. Hale; for chemistry has found so many ways to use the things which men produce out of the ground and the air and the water that the race will never be able to raise more things than industry is able to use.

For agriculture, as the chemist sees it, is not merely the process of raising foods for people to eat. It is becoming, or about to become, the production of raw materials for industry, as well. Industry's appetite, unlike that of a hungry man, is practically insatiable; in the end, it is limited only by the race's ability to use manufactured luxuries and necessities.

Now, what Dr. Hale is sketching out for us is nothing less than the picture of an era in which any kind of restriction on production will be looked upon as sheer insanity. Because mankind's wants are infinite, industry's markets are infinite also; and with such markets industry can never have an oversupply of raw materials.

You don't need to think very long to understand that a world organized on that basis would slough off most of the problems that are tormenting it today. Unemployment, poverty, want—they would simply disappear. Instead of dictatorships calling on their people to get along on less and less, we would have governments using every effort to increase production in every line.

It sounds like a fairy tale. But the point is that it is a fairy tale which is practically begging us to make it come true. The stage is all set. We are on the threshold of this miraculous new age, and all we need to do is step into it.

How long will it be, do you suppose, before we get intelligent enough to take that step?

VICTIM OF HIGH PRESSURE

Checking up on the estate left by a deceased Minnesota farmer, officials looked in his garage and stumbled upon an unused, 20-year-old automobile—and a pathetic little commentary on one of the features of modern life.

A friend disclosed that the farmer, Oscar Peterson, bought the car in 1917 just so he could tell pestering auto salesmen that he had one, then jacked it up in his garage.

Those Americans who quiver in anguish whenever they find a blatant, fast-talking salesman at the door can understand why a timid Swedish gentleman, who wanted only to be alone, would pay several hundred dollars for the privilege. And, as one, they will hope that Mr. Peterson now has somewhere a private little spot of his own, into whose pearly gates no high-pressure salesman can thrust his foot.

SOUTH SEAS ROMANCE

Never say that the age of romantic adventure is dead. If you think it is, consider the case of handsome R. M. Conley of Pan-American Airways.

Conley recently was transferred to the Pan-American clipper base on the Pacific island of Guam. Now Conley happens to stand 6 feet, 9 inches tall; and the natives of Guam, who run about 5 feet 2, have long had a legend that some day a tall white god would come out of the sea and carry off their most desirable maidens. So when Conley appeared, the natives took it for granted that the hour had struck.

To his intense surprise, therefore, Conley presently found himself guest of honor at a native fete—at which, after much dancing and music, he was presented with the most beautiful damsel on the island, on the theory that he might thus be dissuaded from carrying off all the girls.

Naturally enough, Conley fled, leaving the sacrificial damsel behind. The sad sequel is that the natives, male and female alike, are all down on him now, because he let them down. . . . But, anyhow, his case at least proves that romance may still be found in the South Seas.

ANACHRONISTIC TRAGEDY

This is supposed to be the age of electricity. From the way we talk you might suppose—if you didn't know better—that even the humblest home has at least its electric lights.

But the kerosene lamp is far from extinct. The family of William Zeigler, for instance, still uses them in the home near Willard, O.; and the other night, when Mrs. Zeigler tried to refill a living room lamp that had already been lighted, a can of kerosene exploded, killed Mrs. Zeigler and a small daughter, and burned three other children so badly that they are not expected to recover.

That is the sort of tragedy that belongs to the pre-electrical age. That it happened in the middle of the progressive state of Ohio is ample testimony that the men who generate and sell electric current have a wide field that still awaits cultivation.

CRUELTY?

Grave Charges Made Against DeKalb's T. B. Sanitarium

BULLETIN

Sycamore, April 14—Ouster of all three members of the DeKalb county tuberculosis sanitarium board was voted Wednesday by the county board of supervisors.

The ouster proposal received no dissenting votes, but one supervisor voted "present" on the roll-call.

Removal of the sanitarium board, composed of Dr. Paul E. N. Greeley, Waterman, president, S. N. Henderson, Sycamore, secretary, and George S. Hyde, DeKalb, followed charges made that patients are treated cruelly and that unsanitary conditions exist at the sanitarium, which is situated near DeKalb.

Cruel treatment of patients and unsanitary conditions have been disclosed at the DeKalb county sanitarium as a result of an investigation made by members of the county board of supervisors. Their report was presented to the board at its meeting this week. The report was accompanied by a letter from Dr. Carl E. Clark, president of the DeKalb county medical society stating that the doctors have lost confidence in the management of the sanitarium and will no longer recommend that patients be sent there.

In an address from the floor, a member of the investigating committee charged that children confined in the sanitarium were forced to eat more food than they wished; as a result, they hid food in their clothes whenever possible and suffered frequent attacks of vomiting from over-eating. Another member charged that young patients are subjected to hair pulling as a disciplinary measure.

The investigation was made after a former patient had written a letter to the board, the committee making it consisting of Supervisors Harold Stewart of DeKalb, Paul Thiel of Cortland and Bert Challand of Shabbona.

The committee's findings, in a nutshell, were as follows: (1) Poor discipline; (2) cruel treatment of patients; (3) unsanitary conditions; (4) inefficient personnel.

problem have been made. The most recent, described by Dr. Paul Popenoe, is that of Dr. Heinrich Kranz of Germany, who studied 75 pairs of twin brothers, one of whom, in each case, was a criminal. Of these 32 pairs were "identical" twins—those born from the same egg, with similar natures; 43 were "fraternal" twins—those born from different eggs and usually with dissimilar natures. Two-thirds of the identical twin criminals had a criminal brother but only half of the fraternal had a criminal brother. This suggests that if similar natures are placed in the same environment they react in much the same way, whereas dissimilar natures react in different ways.

3. I think a happy wife was a much greater tribute to grandpapa's husbandly qualities than such a wife is to his grandson. Grandma had to get all her happiness out of him and the home and had not outside sources of happiness. So, if this made her happy he had to be a prize husband. But today the wife has a thousand means of happiness besides merely her husband's capacity as a provider and all-around entertainer.

DIED OF HIS WOUNDS

Peoria, Ill., April 15—(AP)—Alphonso Berkold, 27, shot yesterday by police who said they surprised him attempting to open a safe of the Lynch Brothers Oil Company, died of his wounds today.

Chief Fred Nussbaum said Berkold's wife, Betty, was en route here from Chicago to be interviewed regarding her husband's recent activities. He said Berkold had been paroled Jan. 9 from the Joliet penitentiary.

NOT NECESSARY TO KILL HORSES THAT BREAK LEGS

Two 5-Year-Old Stallions
Cured; Will Race
Again

Cincinnati, April 15—(AP)—There is no need for destroying a horse or any other animal when its leg is broken, Dr. Peter Wehner, dentist and racing enthusiast, declared today.

"The animal has no more lost its usefulness when its leg is broken than a human has," said the specialist on focal infections, pointing to his stable of thoroughbreds, of which two once were doomed to be shot because of fractured limbs.

Both horses, Prince Kiev and Prince Pine, stumbled while racing and suffered compound fractures. They are five-year-old stallions. Prince Kiev will race this season at Latonia. Prince Pine has been retired to stud. Their racing careers were interrupted as two-year-olds.

Uses Dental Stone Casts
Dr. Wehner uses a series of casts made from dental stone after the fracture has been set. The first must be removed after a short while to allow for swelling of the limb. This procedure is repeated from time to time until the bones have healed.

"The treatment of a horse is more difficult than that of other animals because of its size, but the fractures heal quite as rapidly, and almost as quickly as in humans," Dr. Wehner observed.

"It only took about five months for Prince Pine's leg to heal completely, although it was about a year before Prince Kiev could walk without a limp. This was because an infection started before the treatment was begun. Neither stallion is limping now."

Major Leaguers Baiting Henrich

Chicago, April 14—(AP)—A half dozen major league baseball clubs waved checkbook bait today at Tom Henrich, a husky young outfielder whose current stock in trade was a .346 minor league batting average and promise of future greatness.

Henrich was freed from the Milwaukee club of the American Association by baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis yesterday, in a ruling that carried an implied rebuke to the Cleveland Indians for attempting to "cover up" the player to prevent his advancement to major league surroundings under the draft rule.

The youngster, a big, 22-year-old slugger, had not asked the commissioner for free agency, but had petitioned for clarification of his status following his sale last fall by New Orleans of the Southern Association, a Cleveland farm, to Milwaukee. Commissioner Landis, however, decided Henrich's contract rights had been violated and declared him at liberty to sell himself to the strongest bidder.

HIGHWAYS FOR SAFETY AND SERVICE

SAFEGUARDING FUTURE
HIGHWAY EXPENDITURES

By C. C. Wiley
Associate Professor of Highway
Engineering, University of Illinois

The safeguarding of our highway expenditures is of paramount importance if we are to receive the most for our money.

Illinois has arisen from a lowly station to be the out-ranking state in highway development. This position has been attained and is being maintained through the intelligent enactment into law of basic principles to ensure an orderly extension of the system and the sound expenditure of the funds.

One of the important laws to this end is the one which provides for additions to the state highway system to be made in a logical and orderly manner and thus precludes a haphazard plan that would most likely prove costly and unsatisfactory.

Another aid to orderly as well as rapid development of a balanced system is the provision that the gas tax be divided equally between the state, the counties and the municipalities. Thus all three are enabled to make simultaneous and needed improvements for the good of all.

One of the most important provisions of the law is that which requires that the county and city shares of the gas tax be expended under the supervision of the state. This does not mean that the state dictates just how the money shall be spent but it does mean that the counties and cities shall choose projects that will fit into the entire highway system and that will be of such types as will secure adequate returns for the money.

The counties by previous experience have long since learned that this state supervision is a decided asset. Some people, however, have the idea that this restriction should be removed from the cities and that they be permitted to spend the money as they see fit. This might be permissible if the city streets did not form an integral part of the highway system.

It was early found that the weakest links in the highway were on the main routes through the cities. This provision of the law was more enacted to accelerate the improvement of these routes and then permit the development of arterial streets and also belt lines where needed. That this bearing fruit can be observed in many cities by the decided improvement in the through routes. This supervision by the state of the expenditure of state funds, which the gas tax really is, within the cities is an extremely sound policy and should not be disturbed because unity and continuity in the highway system is essential to the greatest service to the largest number.

TENANT FARMER IS BETTER OFF THAN AN OWNER?

Survey Indicates Such Condition May Be Very Possible

Indianapolis, Ind., April 15—(AP)—Midwest farm surveys indicate that under favorable conditions tenant farmers are sometimes better off than their neighboring owner-operating farmers, Philip G. Beck, rural resettlement chief of the U. S. department of agriculture, said today.

Beck announced completion of a survey of tenancy conditions in McLean county, Ill., as an aid in ferreting out facts concerning existing tenure systems useful in drafting farm tenancy legislation. Similar studies are being made in Ohio, Iowa and Missouri.

A total of 177 families, including tenants, landlords and owners operators, either living in, or having interest in Randolph township, were interviewed by representatives of the resettlement administration, Beck said, in making the Illinois survey.

McLean county was chosen for the Illinois study, Beck said, because, while it is in the heart of the Illinois corn belt, 2,566, or 61 percent, of the farmers are tenants. Illinois as a whole has 445 percent tenant farmers.

Expected Results

"While it is recognized that the tenancy increase, estimated by the U. S. department of agriculture at about 40,000 a year, is in itself a problem, we are attempting to go deeper in searching out undesirable factors in the present farm tenure system," Beck said. D. E. Lindstrom, rural sociologist at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, who co-operated with the RA in the McLean county survey, said three facts were expected to be brought out, namely:

1. Definite information concerning living standards of tenants and owner-operators.
2. The attitude of tenants and owners toward major farm organizations, and their participation in such.
3. Where the tenant farmers in rich farming areas go when they wish to buy farms.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

THE CITY'S SURPLUS

I was amused when I read the editorial in The Telegraph that the city of Dixon was ending its fiscal year with a surplus. Well, a good place to put that surplus would have been in the holes of Dixon's streets. When you rob the streets and ruin motorists' cars to establish a surplus, I don't think much of the surplus.

And did you ever see a lousier bridge as far as approaches are concerned than our new Peoria bridge? It was terrible most of last year and much worse to begin with this year. And the sad part of it is they don't seem to be doing anything about it.

And while we are talking about streets, did you ever see worse railroad crossings than we have? Try and find some like ours in almost any other town.

Our First street would be a disgrace to the most poverty stricken city in the state. And it has been that way for years. And boy, is it dirty?

Are we really so poor that this thing must continue? If not, then talk to the city officials and say let's get going now and not next fall or next year, or the year after.

Hunt Crank Who Threatened To Kidnap Woman

Springfield, Ill., April 15—(AP)—Believing it to be the work of a "crank," department of justice agents and local police started a search today for the sender of a postcard who threatened to kidnap Mrs. W. H. Bruce, wife of a local business man, unless $2,000 was delivered in small bills.

Signing himself "X," the writer outlined a crude method for the delivery of the money, and ended the note with the warning: "I'm not fooling."

The authorities sought to connect the note with similar extortion threat they said was received recently by another Springfield citizen.

Bruce said he had no previous communication with the extortionist, nor any idea from whom the note might have come. A detail of detectives was assigned to guard the Bruce home.

The American Legion has screened its two talking films, "Inertia" and "The Other Fellow" before 15,680 audiences composed of 322,578 persons since their release last year. These films, provided through

The Nebraska senate has reported out a bill clarifying its drivers' license law and which also provides for the establishment of a state highway patrol.

U. A. W. LEADERS TURN ATTENTION TO PACKARD CO.

Sign Agreement Today
With Chrysler; Sit-
Downers Evicted

Detroit, April 15—(AP)—Leaders of the United Automobile Workers, after signing a final agreement with Chrysler Corporation, turned their attention today to the Packard Motor Car Co.

Richard T. Frankenstein, organizational director of the U. A. W. A., said a conference with Packard officials has been arranged for 2 P. M. tomorrow.

One hundred twenty sit-down strikers ejected from a lock factory were released under bond early today, but 15 union officers and sympathizers were held in jail for investigation.

Those kept in jail did not engage in the clash between strikers and police and deputies yesterday at the Yale & Towne Manufacturing Company's plant but were seized after the strikers were placed in patrol wagons and scout cars.

Score Injured

A score were hurt in the 30-minute encounter, in which the officers used tear gas and strikers tossed lead weights from windows and the building roof. Police Commissioner Heinrich A. Pickett said three shots were fired from within the factory. The injuries of one patrolman and two other men required hospital treatment.

Most of the strikers were women. They had been in the plant since the United Automobile Workers of America called the strike March 9 and disregarded an injunction ordering them to leave Monday. When they failed to comply, warrants were issued for their arrest. The union accused the company of refusing to negotiate with it.

Five of the 15 who were not freed were U. A. W. A. organizers and included Victor and Walter Reuther, brothers.

The company manufactures locks for the Chrysler Automobile Company.

Chrysler and the union, negotiating issues unsolved in their strike settlement April 6, signed an agreement last night covering collective bargaining, seniority and the handling of grievances.

THAT CANOE TRIP By Sig Olson

The success of a canoe trip depends on a number of things; the choice of food and equipment, the fishing, the presence of game, the all important weather, the scenery, length of portages and depth of water in streams, the personnel of the party and the ability of its members to agree on what they want to do. With all physical conditions of a trip ideal, marvelous fishing, good traveling and the many other contributive factors perfect, a wilderness cruise can still be a miserable failure unless the members can get along on the

The third annual physical educational festivity will be presented by the physical education department of Oregon high school at the Coliseum Friday night April 16 at 8 o'clock with 150 students participating. Miss Rhoda Craft and Maurice Siebert of the faculty are directors. The program as outlined is as follows:

Overture by High school orchestra, statuary, English folk dance "Green Leaves", wall scaling, Flamboyant sword drill, rhythmic calisthenics, clown ballet, parallel marching, military marching, rope climbing, sailor's hornpipe, deck games, cheer leader's hop, weight lifting, pirates' holiday, pyramids.

all important question of how the expedition can be handled.

If the object is to see as much country as possible, then the thing to do is travel light and far, changing camp sites every night and paddling and portaging from twenty to thirty miles each day. On the other hand, if the goal is to be a comfortable, permanent camp just out of sight of civilization, then quantities of food and equipment can be taken in, and loafing, fishing and swimming would be the order of the day. It is a great disappointment, naturally, for the man who has this sort of a set-up in mind, to spend his precious week or month traveling continuously without a chance to rest or invite his soul, and it is just as tragic for the restless cruiser to spend his days in inactivity, no matter how ideal the spot.

Sometimes it is possible to make a combination type of cruise that will satisfy everyone, but it is much easier to know far in advance, exactly what kind of cruise it is going to be, and above all to pick partners who have the same idea of what constitutes a good time in the wilderness. That done, a thousand things can go wrong, and the trip still be a great success for everyone.

In addition to the great importance of personnel, there are a few good rules to observe on most any kind of trip, that will help in the preservation of that precious equilibrium in the wilds that means happiness.

1. Get up bright and early. Have the outfit packed and breakfast out of the way before climbing sun makes you lazy.

2. Decide early who is to do the cooking, dishwashing, cutting of wood, pitching the tent, and agree on a certain amount of cooperation.

3. Like the food and the way your partner starts a fire. Little inferences may grow into mountains before the end of the trip.

4. Take along a minimum of personal duff. Nothing gets under your partner's skin as quickly as knowing that he is carrying unnecessary weight.

5. Learn to pack systematically and easily, and above all, with dispatch; and don't take too seriously the idea that in the woods you have time to burn.

6. Make camp in the middle of the afternoon, rather than at dark. Tempers may be short at the end of a day, especially when food is still in the offing.

7. Don't forget that your own personal habits, even though they may be above reproach, might grate on the sensitive soul of your partner to the point where he might joyfully consider "harkari" as the only way out.

CONGRESS HAS POWER TO RULE OUT SIT-DOWNS

Washington, April 15—(AP)—Senator Byrnes (D-SC) said the Supreme Court decision upholding the Wagner act proved that Congress undoubtedly has the power to outlaw sit-down strikes.

A House committee has approved 11 to 4 a Senate resolution condemning sit-downs, company unions and industrial espionage, but Byrnes said he was considering stronger action.

The resolution on which the House will vote next week would have no legal effect.

The southerner said he was undecided whether to propose a special amendment to the Wagner labor relations law that would forbid sit-down strikes, or to wait for possible general amendments.

He will introduce a "labor spy" amendment, he said, to the present Byrnes law against importing strike breakers across state lines. It would prohibit the transportation of persons into another state to obstruct labor groups in collective bargaining.

Byrnes said it would "cover the evil complained of where men are brought into a plant ostensibly as workers, but really for the purpose of getting into unions and interfering with their activities.

Sit-down strikes may be discussed next Tuesday by leaders of capital and labor at a conference called by Secretary Perkins. She said the subject would not be excluded from the meeting, which will be attended by the two rival labor leaders, William Green and John L. Lewis.

ILLINI NINE COMPOSED OF SOPHOMORES

Newcomers Appear In All Infield But First Base

Champaign, Ill., April 15.—Sophomores will apparently play a big part in the destinies of the University of Illinois baseball team this season.

Newcomers so far have appeared in all the infield positions except first base, two sophomore pitchers loom as likely to be the chief support of Capt. Hale Swanson in the pitcher's box and another sophomore is catching.

Louis Boudreau, the "Flying Frenchman" of basketball fame, takes to the diamond as the proverbial duck to the water and if he carries on the way he has begun he may equal his exploits on the floor. Boudreau is playing third base regularly.

Augie Sisco, new shortstop, who hails from Berwyn has only one year of eligibility because of junior college competition. At second Coach Wallie Roettger is using Ernie Cavallo, sophomore from John Marshall high school, Chicago. Cavallo, 5 feet 2 inches, is the shortest player the Illini nine has had for many years.

Callahan Completes Infield

John Callahan, reserve first baseman last season, completes the infield as Roettger has been starting it in preliminary games. The condition of Murray Franklin, last year's regular third baseman, who has been held back by an injured shoulder, makes his appearance uncertain. If Franklin regains form, it is possible he will be used at first or second.

Tom McConnell, sophomore from University City high school, St. Louis, is monopolizing the backstop assignment and looks like a fixture.

The two sophomore pitchers are Raymond Post, from Lindblom high school, Chicago and Meyers Schuckman, Cicero. Both have shown sufficient promise to encourage Roettger to hope they will be able to do their share of the pitching work in the Big Ten campaign.

For his outfielders Roettger to date has looked to veterans, favoring Wib Henry, eight-letter winner who hopes to earn his ninth emblem, Fred Reinhart and John McDonald.

Last year's nine won ten and lost two games to be noised out by Michigan with nine victories and one defeat. The Wolverines were rained out for two other games. The Illini have lost three veteran infielders, Dutcher, first base; Weber, second and Swike, third; Berg, pitcher; Danecak, outfielder; Daukus, catcher and Melino, reserve infielder, all lettermen.

This leaves the following nucleus of lettermen: Swanson, pitcher; Henry, Reinhart, McDonald, Haeffler, Hinze, outfielders; Callahan, first; Franklin, infield and Nickiewicz, catcher. Frank Russell, letterman in 1935, is also available.

Other Candidates

Other candidates in addition to those already mentioned include:

Catchers—Russell, Doyle, St. Louis; Jack Berner, Morris.

Pitchers—Leo Sainati, Cicero; Harry Ruyter, Vernon Rawie, Oak Park; Howard Stuebner, Lindblom high school, Chicago and Maurice Quina, Pittsburg, Kan. Carlton Palmer, Bowen high school, Chicago.

Infielders—Frank Conley, Belvidere, first; Henry Ritt, third and Maurice Quinn.

Outfielders—Carter Cooley, Calumet high school, Chicago; Don Christensen, Park Ridge; William Johnson, Maywood; Anthony Mazzuca, Calumet high school, Chicago; Charles Farrington, Sycamore.

News Briefs From Training Camps of American and National Leaguers

By The Associated Press

Baltimore, April 15.—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox tossed Jack Wilson, the Seattle strong man, against the Baltimore Orioles today, while waiting the return of Manager Joe Cronin.

Cronin has been away a week with Mrs. Cronin, now recovering at the Washington home her foster father, Clark Griffith, after loss of two children in child birth in Florida. He reported her condition was satisfactory.

Washington—A rubber game with the Senators faced the Boston Bees today before they hopped trains for Boston and the intercity series starting Saturday.

Richmond, Va.—Manager Burleigh Grimes named three right-handers and two southpaws as his Brooklyn Dodger pitching staff for the National League season. The right handers are Van Mungo, Fred Frankhouse, and Luke Hamlin, the latter a rookie, and the left-handers, Max Butcher and Roy Henshaw.

Norfolk, Va.—If Charlie Ruffing doesn't sign, the New York Yankees may have his successor as a pinch-batter in another pitcher. Big Walter Brown hammered a triple, double, and single in his last start and has hit well in other exhibitions.

Columbia, S. C.—The New York Giants now have faced Cleveland's Bob Feller 19 innings, have made eight hits, scored five runs, and received 11 passes. Young Robert has hung up 28 strikeouts.

Danville, Va.—Lee Grissom, Cincinnati Reds hurler, opined today that Augie Brittain, new bull pen catcher, "couldn't be so tough."

Said Grissom, who claims he won't trim his 12-day crop of whiskers until his first National League win: "Brittain might have been a fighter in the bush leagues but no bozo whose name is August will scare anyone in the majors."

Kansas City—The Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago White Sox wound up their exhibition series today. Red Lucas pitched for the Pirates and Sugar Cain for the Sox. Mike Kreevich, smallest man on the White Sox, apparently has won a regular job in centerfield. Larry Rosenthal's hitting slumped, and Kreevich, has been slugging up to Jimmy Dykes' requirements.

Springfield, Mo.—The Chicago Cubs faced the Chicago White Sox today in their final spring training exhibition game. The Cubs and White Sox will open a three-game "city series" in Chicago tomorrow. Larry French went to the mound today for Chicago. Elton Hossett and Earl Caldwell were the selection for St. Louis.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—There is a rumor current that Leo Durocher, Cardinal captain, has become plate-shy since he was hit in the face by a pitched ball at St. Petersburg, Fla., March 31.

Philadelphia—The Phillies and Athletics resumed drills on their home fields today, preparing for the big league opening games next Monday. The Mackmen will travel to Baltimore tomorrow to play the Baltimore club of the International League and will meet the Phils in the fourth and fifth games of their city series over the weekend.

Danville, Va.—Pat McLaughlin, rookie right-hander staying with the Detroit Tigers on borrowed time due to Tommy Bridges' injury, got a chance today to lengthen his service with a major league nine. He was picked to pitch against Cincinnati.

THREE VETERANS FOR DEKALB PATH TEAM THIS YEAR

Barbs Schedule Eight Meets; Varsity Not Yet Picked

Eight meets for the present year is the schedule that Coach James Trees of DeKalb high has worked out for his crew of track aspirants this year. And it promises to be a heavy schedule, too, with only three veterans to bolster the squad in its campaign on the cinders and the field.

The three veterans are Johnny McCormick, who has a particular liking and considerable ability at the hurdles, Paul Grube, a discus tosser and Nick Biehn, who takes special delight in soaring through the air in the pole vault. Outside of these three boys the squad is composed of green men, but there is an unusually large number of freshmen and sophomores on the outfit, who are working hard.

Select Many

It is highly probable that many of these lads will be included in the team that is finally selected for the first meet of the year, scheduled a week from this coming Saturday and at West Aurora. Coach Trees has no intentions of picking his team until just before the meet and then trials will probably be held to determine which two lads will be called for each event.

But the idea of making the team is being almost overshadowed this year by the desire of the boys to win a letter whether they are on the team or not. In order to keep interest in the sport at a high pitch and give the lads who are not able to click on the team a real reason for being interested in track the idea of a decathlon competition has been inaugurated.

A Full Program

The crew of about 50 boys, will work out on various events, the following being included in the program, 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, mile run, high hurdle, pole vault, broad jump, discus, shot put and javelin. Two of these events will be run each week starting with next Monday evening. One point will be given for a first, two for a second, three for a third and so on, so the event in which there are 50 competitors will see the last man receiving 50 points. At the end of the season the points will be tallied and the man having the least number of points will be awarded a regular track letter. A ribbon will be given to the second place winner.

Practice on the track and field has been underway at the high school for the past three weeks and considerable improvement has been noted in the entire group. The team on account of the lack of experienced men will probably not be an outstanding outfit this year, but with so many of the hopefuls being freshmen and sophomores Coach Trees is confident he is building a solid foundation for a great squad in the next year or two.

MAYWOOD HIGH SCHOOL BOASTS ATHLETIC MARK

Maywood, Ill., April 15.—(AP)—Proviso township high school pointed today to an "athletic renaissance" and cited figures to prove it.

At an athletic banquet last night, at which Doug Mills and "Hek" Kenney, University of Illinois basketball and wrestling coaches, respectively, were the principal speakers, school officials summed up the accomplishments as follows:

Basketball: The suburban league championship two successive years, undefeated in league play this year. The 1936-37 team was undefeated until the second round of the state sectional tournament. Two year record: won 47, lost 4.

Wrestling: Undefeated in two years, won first official state title this year. Three individual state champions.

Football: 1936 team undefeated until final game with Oak Park lost by 6 to 0 score on blocked kick.

Cross country: Undefeated in dual meets in two years. Won 1937 league meet.

Baseball: Either league champion or co-champ in three out of last four years.

Garden's Chances Of Stopping Bout In Federal Court

Newark, N. J., April 15.—(AP)—Madison Square Garden's chances of stopping Jim Braddock from tangle with Joe Louis in June hinged today on federal court interpretation of mixed-up contractual mess.

The hottest argument of the Garden's day in court yesterday, when it sought to prevent the titleholder's bout with Louis in Chicago June 22, revolved around three contracts between it and Braddock, dating back to the fight in which Braddock won the crown from Maxie Baer two years ago.

Federal Judge Guy L. Fake reserved decision on the Garden's suit for an injunction to prevent the Chicago Braddock-Louis go, meantime directing garden attorneys to file briefs within a week.

There are 20 Hawaiian Islands. Nine are inhabited.

GIANT-KILLER OF CUE TOURNEY IS ELIMINATED

Caras, Greenleaf And Ponzi, 3 Leaders, Breathe Easier

New York, April 15.—(AP)—The "Giant killer" of the world's pocket billiard championship, Ervin Rudolph, the ex-champ from Cleveland, is out of the tournament and you can bet that the three leaders, Jimmy Caras, first with six victories and two defeats, and Ralph Greenleaf and Andrew Ponzi of New York, tied for second with six and three apiece, are mighty glad.

Rudolph gave the leaders plenty of trouble. Tuesday he beat Greenleaf, costing the New Yorker his first tie for second place, and yesterday he trimmed Ponzi, 125 to 77, in 11 innings, a defeat which cost the latter a deadlock for first place, for later in the evening Caras, the defending champion, dropped a close one to Onofrio Lauri of Brooklyn, 125 to 107, in 17 innings.

Greenleaf capitalized on Ponzi's defeat by whipping Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia, 125 to 81, in 11 innings, and moving into second place with Ponzi.

The two runners-up will fight it out tonight in one of the two matches on the program. Caras plays Mosconi in the opener, and should he lose, the winner of the Ponzi-Mosconi match will take first place.

PAROLE RULES CHANGES OKAYED BY COMMITTEE

Indeterminate Sentence
Law Causes Controvery

Springfield, Ill., April 15—(AP)—Against the advice of prison and parole officials, the Ward-Schnackenberg bills changing parole regulations have the favorable recommendation of the House judiciary committee.

The big argument was over the indeterminate sentence law, which permits the parole board to determine the definite period of incarceration. The most controversial bill in the series of six would permit judges to fix minimum and maximum prison terms within the present limits of the law.

Joseph E. Ragen, superintendent of prisons said the present system makes for better convict discipline.

Chairman W. C. Jones of the parole board said its members are in the best position to determine how much time each prisoner should serve. John Laandescio of Urbana, another parole board member, and Father Eligius Wier, Joliet prison chaplain, supported his arguments.

Judge Harry M. Fisher of Chicago objected that the proposed change would result in courts setting fixed sentences of varying length.

Last week the opposite stand was taken by a delegation headed by Frank J. Loesch of the Chicago crime commission and Judges John Prystalski and Robert C. O'Connell of Cook county.

Other bills in the series approved would segregate sex criminals, provide for full parole publicity, prohibit the board from acting as an appeals court and permit it to administer oaths.

FARM TENANCY CHALLENGE IS DUE IN HOUSE

Washington, April 15—(AP)—Minority reports on the $470,000,000 farm tenancy bill, approved last week by the House agricultural committee, served notice the measure would be challenged when it reaches the House floor.

Representative Bierman (D-Ia), in a statement of views, said he would seek to amend the bill to give the government authority to purchase farms for resale to tenants on easy terms. The Republican minority on the committee also offered a complaint—against the method provided for handling administrative personnel.

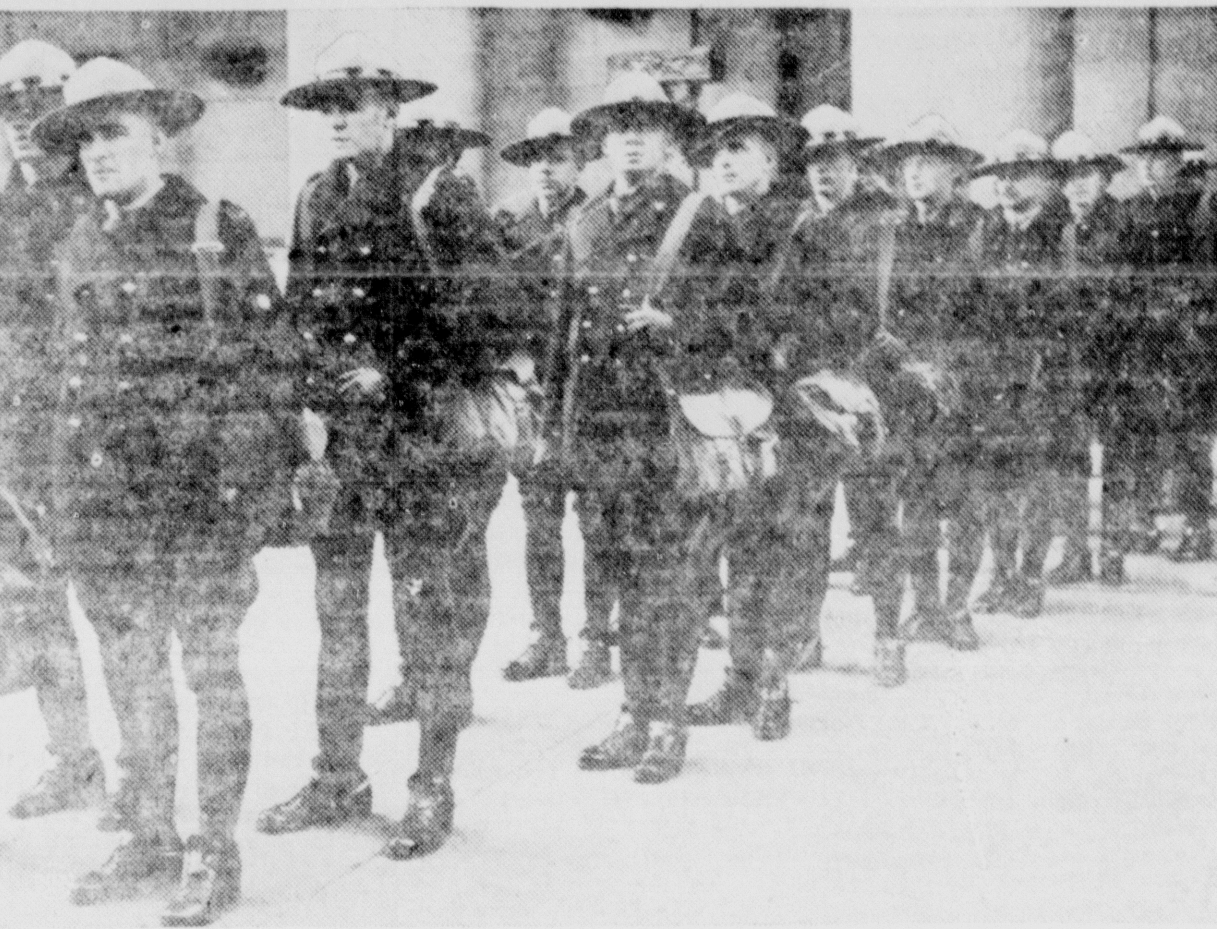

Bierman objected to a provision giving the secretary of agriculture authority to extend loans on the grounds that:

First, it contained no provision for governmental supervision of the tenant during a trial period.

Second, it would permit the tenant to sell his farm at any time a rise in prices might make such action profitable.

Bierman's views followed those of President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace that the government should be allowed to supervise tenant buyers and prevent alienation of the land for 40 years. The committee rejected the government purchase plan after a majority raised the objection it would place the government in the farming business and would make it landlord over tenant buyers.

SUPREME COURT CHANGE PLAN IN STATE STUDIED

Springfield, Ill., April 15—(AP)—The Supreme court enlargement issue has landed in the legislature—but the population of Cook county and not the age of the judiciary was the factor which brought it to a head.

Senator Harold G. Ward, Chicago Democrat, proposed a constitutional amendment to increase the membership of the state supreme court from seven to 13; the six additional justices to be elected from Cook county in 1940.

Ward contended the change would lighten the burden of the present single justice from Cook county and would give Chicago the representation in proportion to its population. He found no fault with the court.

Ward also introduced bills at this session to redistrict the congressional and senatorial districts of the state.

Another Ward bill introduced would give cities authority to tax, license and regulate the sale of cigars.

Legislature

Springfield, Ill., April 15—(AP)—The 60th General Assembly, a mid-April survey showed today, is further behind schedule than is customary for Illinois legislatures.

With two and a half months before the June 30 deadline for adjournment, some two score bills have been sent to Governor Horner but only three are of importance.

The re-enactment of the utility sales tax.

The pegging of the Chicago school levy at $45,000,000.

The $500,000 appropriation for southern Illinois flood relief.

Other big issues, with few exceptions, are either inactive or dead, although some are being pushed toward the final action stage. More than 1,050 bills have been introduced, but the legislature got off to a slow start by waiting until February to attempt a start at its work.

Previous assemblies, further along at the half way mark, closed with a June rush marked by overtime and confusion.

More Trimming Needed

Still to be introduced are the appropriation bills for the next biennium. The governor has finished his first round of budget conferences, but finance department officials have more trimming to do on the $18,800,000 excess requests for funds.

Hopes of keeping the budget in balance suffered another blow yesterday with introduction of a deficiency appropriation bill asking $600,000 more for old age pensions before July 1.

With the Chicago park peg levy to be threshed out in a conference committee next week, nearly two dozen other issues received virtually no attention from the assembly this week.

Of the labor program, further along is the women's eight-hour bill, which almost passed the senate on the first try. Unemployment insurance is still in subcommittee.

Other Issues Pending

Senate approval has been given the insurance code and parole bills but none of the other controversies have passed either house.

Other big issues awaiting passage roll calls include extension of the sales tax, the new centralized relief program, enabling women to sit on juries, licensing of automobile drivers, school legislation, the criminal, revenue and fish and game codes, reapportionment and revenue reform through a constitutional amendment.

The report of the Schlarman prison investigation commission, appointed more than a year ago, is to be received Monday.

GUIDING HAND OF BALTIMORE ORIOLES DEAD

Managed One-Time
National Loop
Champions

Baltimore, April 15—(AP)—"Foxy Ned" Hanlon, guiding hand of the famous old Baltimore Orioles, thrice champions of the National League and supreme rulers of the baseball realm of the middle '90's, is dead.

Sometimes called the father of modern baseball, the earliest devotee of the hit-and-run, and tutor of such baseball "greats" as the late John J. McGraw, "Uncle" Wilbert Robinson, and Hughie Jennings, Hanlon died shortly before midnight last night. He was 79.

He had been in ill health for three years. Saturday, he suffered a heart attack, and sank steadily.

Started In 1880

He broke into the National League with Cleveland in 1880.

As manager at Pittsburgh, at the "fabulous" salary of $5,000 annually, he achieved instant success and was drafted to Baltimore in 1893. A year later, he carried the fighting flag to its first championship—the title the Orioles held for three straight years.

When Baltimore and Brooklyn combined, Hanlon won two more pennants for Brooklyn and received the highest salary ever paid a manager up to that time. He took over the Cincinnati club in 1905 at a higher salary and retired from active managing after two seasons.

In 1907 Hanlon returned to Baltimore as president of the Orioles—their playing in the Eastern League.

He died yesterday of natural causes, aged 89.

NAZI PRESS IN BITTER ATTACK ON U. S. CHURCH

Berlin, April 15—(AP)—The entire German press appeared today with bannerlines atop "Horrible Details of the Negro Lynchings" in Mississippi.

The concerted publicity for the torture and killing of two Negroes, last Tuesday, by a Duck Hill, Miss., mob which was enraged by the slaying of a country merchant, coincided with charges that American churches were permitting "vicious" anti-German "machinations".

Officially sponsored comment on the lynchings contrasted them with "humane German racial laws", but refrained from direct attacks on the United States in connection therewith.

At the same time the inspired Nazi press loosed furious tirades against the showing in the Riverside Memorial Church in New York of an anti-Nazi film seeking to raise $400,000 for the relief of Christian German refugees.

The outbursts in phrasing that showed their common origin carried such headings as "Anti-German Lying Film!" and "Jewish Emigrants Stirring Up Hatred Before the Altar!"

The official German news agency, Deutsches Nachrichtenbüro, said, in discussing the film which has Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, pastor of the Riverside church, for its chief figure:

"This film reveals with terrible clearness the unchristian methods with which a new anti-German drive is to be launched in the American churches by a small un-American clique whose aim is to misuse American religious sentiments for nefarious ends."

The Kruezeitung, which retains some of its traditional religious standing, professed "painful indignation," and added:

"We can not believe the people of the United States do not realize whither these vicious machinations under the cloak of religious observances must tend."

Pana Coal Company Ceases Operations Indefinite Period

Panama, Ill., April 15—(AP)—The Pana coal company mine, scene of a recent one-day sit-down strike, prepared to cease operations for an indefinite period. A seasonal slump in orders was given by mine officials as the cause of the suspension of work.

Approximately 200 men, affiliated with the Progressive Miners of America Union, are employed in the mine. Glenn G. Shafer, secretary of the coal producers' association of Illinois, is president of the company.

Pana's other mine, operated by the Penwell Coal Company and employing about 300 men, suspended operations for the summer April 1.

PASTOR FLAYS COCKTAIL ERA

Besetting Sin Also Disregard For Holy Matrimony

Rockford, Ill., April 15—(AP)—Plans for the consolidation of home mission and church extension work in the Augustana Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church were mapped today after the proposal won the approval of 300 delegates attending the 85th annual convention of the Illinois conference.

In urging the consolidation, Dr. P. O. Bersell of Minneapolis, synod president, said "We certainly cannot say our task is completed when there are 70,000,000 unchurched people in the United States."

The conference represents approximately 58,000 Lutherans attending 158 Augustana synod churches in Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Indiana.

In an address accompanying his annual report, Dr. Peter Peterson, Chicago, president of the Illinois conference, criticized what he called the "cocktail lounge" era and the "disregard for the sacredness of holy matrimony."

Drunkenness is making its inroads into our congregations," he said. "The number of places that dispense liquor today outnumbers the saloons of pre-prohibition days four to one and they are designed to capture the patronage with their cocktail lounges, beer parlors and dance halls."

Touching on the divorce problem, Dr. Peterson said: "The disregard for the sacredness of holy matrimony is one of the glaring sins in American life, not only in Hollywood but penetrating the stratum of society, and injecting itself into the church to an extent that has called for disciplinary action."

Jail Americans For Attempting To Enter Spain

Perpignan, France, April 15—(AP)—Six Americans were sentenced to one month in prison today on charges of attempting to enter Spain to volunteer in the government army. They were arrested near Thuir April 9, the third group to have been arrested within a week.

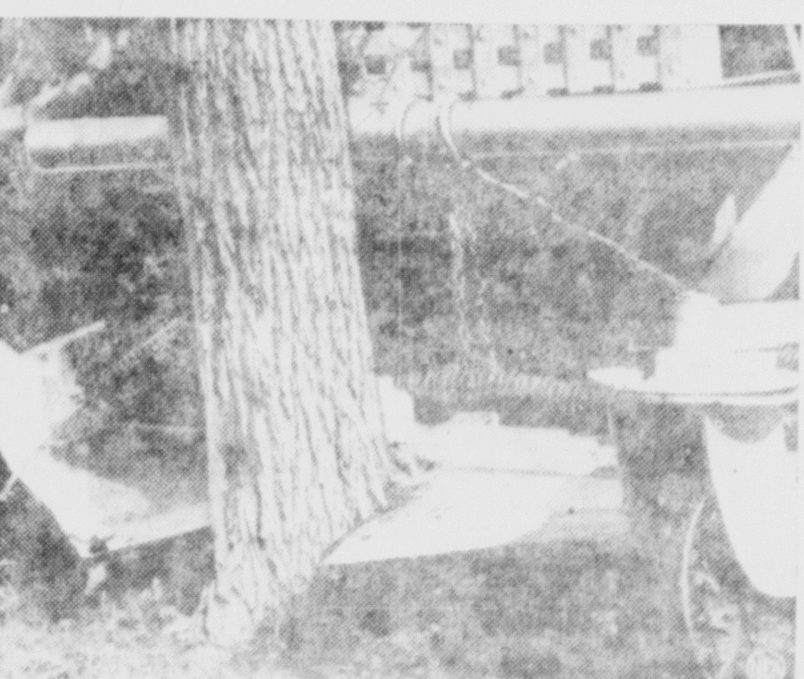

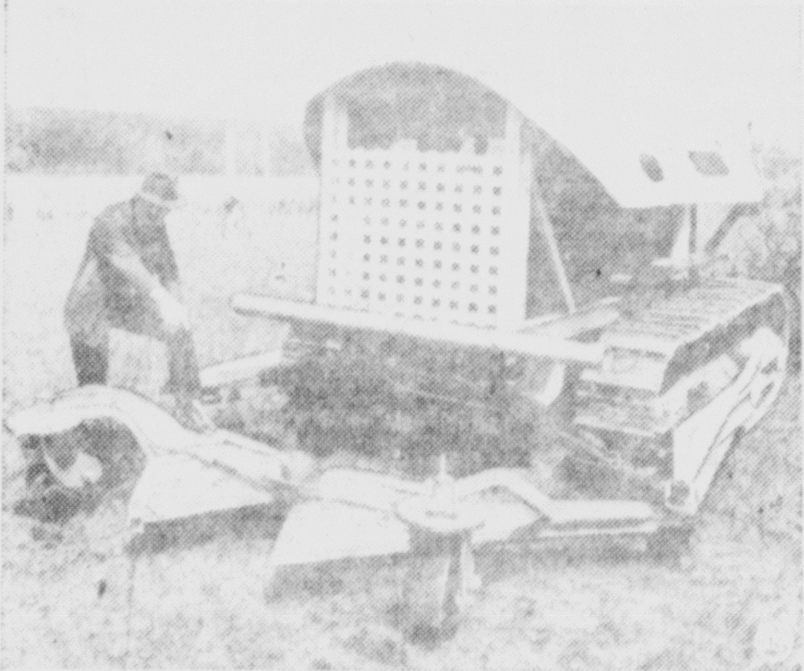

The Americans, who told police they sailed from New York March 25 aboard the liner Manhattan, identified themselves as:

Aba Letvin, 22, student, New York; Morris Simon Fishman, 34, grocer, Los Angeles; Everett Willoughby, 26, metal worker, Marion, O.; Albert Byron Sanford, 29, mechanic, Rochester, N. Y.; Raymond Elvin Tiger, 24, salesman, Alhambra, Calif.; Herbert Hart Hutner, 27, writer, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A bite that means more than the bark is provided by the "tree-scissors" invented by Kirk Knight, 27, of Bartlett, Tex., to clear wooded land in a hurry. The big steel jaws which Knight is pointing out bite through the wood when they make contact with a tree, as in lower photo. The cross-bar above the blades push the tree forward. Knight says he can average two trees a minute and estimates the machine will do the work of 200 woodchoppers. The largest tree it has cut was 22 inches across.

New Solvent

Only Glass, Platinum, Tungsten, Impervious to Liquid

Chapel Hill, N. C., April 15.—(AP)—A new straw-colored liquid that can dissolve almost every substance in the world except glass, platinum and tungsten, has been reported to the American Chemical society.

Somewhere in the universe a world possibly exists with this liquid, selenium oxychloride, substituted for water, said Prof. Golbet B. L. Smith of the Polytechnic Institute, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"In such a selenium liquid world," he said, "the temperate zones would be studied with huge glaciers of white crystals, the frozen solvent, which has the high freezing point of about 65 degrees Fahrenheit."

"Mountains would consist of glass or feldspar, and all bridges and boats would have to be constructed of platinum or tungsten, virtually the only metals which do not react readily to it."

"Snow would fall every time the temperature dropped below the mild warmth of spring. Men would have to carry umbrellas of glass, tungsten or platinum. The Ohio-Mississippi floods of this winter would not be a circumstance to what might be regularly expected by a selenium oxychloride man."

The selenium ice would pile up from early fall to late spring, and when the thermometer rose with the gentle warmth of early summer, rivers and streams would become torrents of the fuming, corrosive liquid.

"Animals would have to have glass lined stomachs to drink the stuff."

In the Brooklyn laboratory, one cool night, a bottle of the stuff froze, broke the glass, warmed up and dripped to the wooden floor. Before morning it dissolved a hole completely through the floor, dripped into the physics laboratory below, partly dissolved some instruments and started to eat a hole in the bakelite.

Hay Fever-ites May Get Break: State May Bring Relief

Springfield, Ill., April 15.—(AP)—Illinois lawmakers will be asked to give hay fever sufferers a break.

John H. Lloyd, who on May 1 will succeed Walter McLaughlin as director of agriculture, announced the legislature would be asked to approve a resolution calling for destruction of ragweed.

It includes, he said, all noxious weeds, but lays special emphasis upon ragweed, "which, through irritating pollens, contributes to hay fever, causing discomfort and ill health to thousands of citizens."

He said the resolution asked Governor Horner to designate the period between Aug. 8 and 22 as "weed destruction days" and by proclamation to enlist the citizens of the state in making Illinois "healthful, clean and beautiful."

Another clause instructs the director of agriculture to "consider the establishment of a competitive weed control program."

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. JAGO GALDSTON

The Hangover

Excessive indulgence in alcohol is usually followed by what is described as a hangover.

Frequently, therefore, physicians are asked, "What is good for a hangover?"

To which question the only fitting answer is "Prevention"—that is, reasonable abstinence.

The individual who occasionally over-indulges in alcohol is likely to recover spontaneously. In this sense, he will cure himself of his hangover. But there is no such thing as a "cure" for a hangover.

Alcohol is a toxic substance. The hangover is therefore the result of the intoxication. In addition the affected individual may suffer from the physical exhaustion resulting from his over-activity during the period of exhilaration. He may also suffer from acute malnutrition and during cold or very hot weather from exposure.

Treatment for a hangover must therefore be conserving and compensatory in nature. Rest in bed and sleep are essential requirements. If the individual finds it impossible to fall asleep, he may be treated with sedatives.

Usually the patient suffers from an acute gastritis, that is an acute inflammation or irritation of the stomach and the intestinal tract. For this condition gastro-intestinal rest—that is, abstinence from food for a day or so—may be indicated. More commonly, however, the patient will benefit by taking a bland, liquid or soft diet.

Tomato juice and milk are two favorite foods in this condition. The intake of sugar usually also proves beneficial.

The hangover sufferer will benefit by a prolonged warm bath. Immersion in a tub for periods ranging from 15 to 45 minutes, repeated two or three times daily, will help him to recover.

The stimulating effects of coffee are well known and are frequently utilized in the treatment of a hangover. Coffee is also a diuretic and, acting as a stimulant on the kidney function, may help to eliminate the toxic products of the body.

But be it noted alcohol is no remedy for a hangover.

HEART AND THYROID
In the early part of the last century the Irish physician, Robert James Graves, described a disease which now bears his name. The disease is essentially due to an overactivity of the thyroid gland. This gland is located at the base of the neck and has been properly called the pace-maker of metabolism.

Graves' disease in its classical form is characterized by a certain amount of enlargement of the thyroid gland, bulging of the eyes, which gives the sufferer the appearance of being continuously in a state of fright, rapid heart action, a rise in blood pressure, loss of body weight, muscular tremors, disturbances in the functions of the gastro-intestinal tract and a high basal metabolism. The last means the burning up of the body fuels at a rate above normal.

During the last 100 years this form of thyroid overactivity has been competently treated, mainly by surgical means. In more recent years another form of this disturbance has been recognized and has been quite properly called masked hyperthyroidism, masked because it does not present the classical picture of Graves' disease, and hyperthyroidism because the thyroid is overactive.

In the masked form of the disease the thyroid is not perceptibly enlarged, or at least the enlargement is not readily to be noticed, nor do the eyes bulge prominently. The sufferer does, however, present the symptoms of deranged heart function, loss of body weight, a rise in blood pressure and muscular tremors.

When the condition remains undiagnosed and untreated, the accumulated effects of what is called thyrotoxicosis—that is, chronic intoxication with the excessive secretions of the thyroid gland—may irreparably damage the heart, for in this condition "there is no rest night or day for the heart over-driven by an overactive thyroid."

Interestingly, too, much "social and occupational damage" may be suffered by the patient because of the increased irritability associated with this condition.

The victims of thyrotoxicosis are usually restless, eager, alert and difficult, with "a leaning toward emotional instability." The irritability is frequently interrupted by periods of depression.

Thyrotoxicosis is effectively treated by operations on the thyroid gland.

Tomorrow—The Handshake Menace.

An intensive factual scientific study of motor car speed as it relates to traffic accidents was inaugurated last week by a committee composed of representatives of the automotive industry, the National Safety Council, Society of Automotive Engineers, the Interstate Commerce Commission, U. Data now available, it was announced at the first meeting, is "so meager as to justify no conclusions."

MOLASSES AND SULPHUR AREN'T GOOD REMEDIES

Good news is contained in the release of the Illinois Tuberculosis association to the effect that sulphur and molasses are "out" as a cure for spring fever.

The approach of warm weather brings a warning from the association which says that spring fever, so called, may be something more than a desire to sit in the sun and do nothing after the winter's inclement winds. Sulphur and molasses as specifics for what is wrong with you are also out, it is said.

The association states that three of the four most common symptoms of serious tuberculosis might be mistaken for the seasonal spring fever. The wise person will let his doctor decide, for the association points out that he who treats himself has a fool for a physician in most cases.

The following four questions, if answered in the affirmative, should be cause for concern and lead the individual to consult his doctor:

1. Are you tired all the time without cause? Not laziness, but fatigue which comes quickly after ordinary work or play, is a danger signal.
2. Are you losing weight without cause? Tuberculosis is a wasting disease which may cause the patient to lose weight.
3. Is your appetite poor? Indigestion and lack of desire for food may be indications of tuberculosis or some other ailment. It is best to have a physician investigate the cause.
4. Have you been coughing for three weeks or more? If the throat is husky, or if a common cold persists long after the usual time required for it to clear up, the doctor should be consulted.

There are other symptoms of active tuberculosis. Blood-streaked sputum, pleurisy or pain in the chest, afternoon temperature and night sweats may be signals. The Illinois Tuberculosis association emphasizes, however, that tuberculosis should be discovered long before any of the symptoms of serious disease appear by means of the simple tuberculin test and the x-ray.

Bounty Offered For Groundhogs

Jacksonville, Ill., April 15.—(AP)—The groundhog, legendary shadowy harbinger of spring, also is a menace to highways and cornfields, the board of commissioners of Morgan county decided in posting today a 15 cent bounty on him.

The commissioners also set up a fund to pay 10 cents a head bounties on full grown crows, five cents each for fledglings and five cents each for crow eggs.

"that reminds me—it's time to change motor oil!"

MAKE IT ISO-VIS "D"

As vital to engine health as timely attention to a Spring cold can be to your own well being: DRAIN AND CHANGE YOUR MOTOR OIL! For dirt, in time, destroys the protection-ability of the finest oil. Road dust, moisture, tiny particles of engine metal, grit...these do get in, accumulate, combine with the oil to form a grinding compound that wears down your engine.

Now winter oil should go, and your motor should be treated to a grade that fits the season. Be sure, at the same time, your crankcase is flushed clean. Avail yourself of the quick, courteous, reliable service of a Standard Oil Dealer.

Choose a Standard Oil Dealer, too, because Standard Oil Dealers carry Iso-Vis "D", Standard's tough, long-lasting motor oil. Those qualities of ISO-VIS "D" become increasingly important to your motor as the weather grows warmer. Protect your motor with an oil change now. Put in the correct seasonal grade of Iso-Vis "D", and be prepared!

KATY RAWLS DEFENDS HER TANK CROWN

Wins Second Consecutive Freestyle Championship

Chicago, April 15—(AP)—From now on, every time little Katy Rawls of Miami Beach, Fla., wins an A. A. U. swimming title, it will be a record.

She may not shatter all-time marks, but each victory in championship competition will enhance her record for crowns won. Last night she defended her 300-yard individual medley title for her twenty-second triumph, in the opening program of the annual indoor title meet, breaking a tie with Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett, famed for her backstroke triumphs and her troubles with the American Olympic committee, and Helene Madison, famous star of the Washington A. C. of Seattle.

The tiny Florida star, who shared honors with Claudia Eckert of Chicago, winner of her second straight 100-yard free-style championships, retained her medley honors in the water and against a post-race protest last night. After she had staged a brisk spurt in the free-style leg of the exacting test to defeat Patti Taylor of Columbus, Ohio, Doris Brennan of Providence, R. I., entered a protest.

Protest Ruled Out
Miss Brennan claimed the start was made before she had lined up with the field. The judges, decided the start was good. Miss Rawls' time, 4 minutes 6.4 seconds, was a tenth of a second slower than her own meet record set a year ago. Harriet Vance of Peoria, Ill., was third.

Miss Eckert had to swim the 100 yards in the meet record time of 1 minute, 13 seconds to outfinish Halina Tomaski of Detroit.

Miss Eckert's time was seven-tenths of a second faster than her own record figure of last year.

Koepke. The evening's entertainment included games and a program which was in the form of a radio broadcast. Both vocal and instrumental numbers were enjoyed, also police calls, an original poem and questions by "the man on the street," the participants being cleverly introduced by the announcer, Rev. Roland Turnbull. In appreciation of her efficient service to the church as pianist, Mrs. Crossman was presented with an autographed copy of Dr. C. T. Holman's book and a basket of beautiful cut flowers. When the delicious luncheon was served, everyone enjoyed the gorgeous birthday cake which had been baked and daintily decorated by Mrs. Clarence Deane. The entire evening was a joyful celebration. Out of town guests were: Miss Elizabeth Crossman of Galva, Mrs. Helen Dunbar, the Misses Thelma Parkinson and Sue Matson of Sterling and Miss Ruth Meyer of Princeton.

Consideration Of Pettengill Bill Voted By House

Washington, April 15—(AP)—The House has voted 277 to 97 to consider the Pettengill bill to repeal the "long-and-short-haul" clause of the interstate commerce act.

This clause prohibits the charging of a lower rate for a long haul than for a shorter one on the same routes in the same direction. Representative Rankin (D-Miss) an opponent of the bill, forced the vote on whether the House would consider the measure.

The measure passed the House 215 to 41 last session, but did not come up in the Senate.

American railroads fostered the bill on the ground it would permit them to compete "on a fair basis" with water and truck transportation lines, which are not restricted by such a clause. Steamship and truck lines urged its defeat.

SOCIAL REFORM SERMON THEME WEDNESDAY EVE

Special Services Continue To Attract Congregations

"Social Reform" was the subject of the sermon by Thomas Sandlin at the special service at the east Side Congregational church last evening. The preacher said in part:

There is an irresistible something about man which compels him to at least testify for some sort of a moral and ethical code. Very often one may hear conversation similar to this: "I may go to hell but it will not be for that," indicating that the speaker has some sort of a standard. This is true even among thieves and killers.

In the last thirty years, this feeling of obligation has found expression in social reforms. In fact, a plan of social reform is about all that one can hear from two thirds of the pulpits in America. Needless to say, morals and ethics as practiced in human lives, were never more corrupt than they are now. The man who refuses to tell a lie because he thinks it is wrong, is looked at from under raised eyebrows.

There are numbers of these social reform plans and doubtless every one is a good one, but one thing each lacks. Their authors have failed to take into consideration the depravity of the human heart. No social reform plan can succeed without the aid of some outside force to perform it.

Such an outside help can be received from only one place. It is to be found in the gospel of Jesus Christ. St. Paul says, "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ for it is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believeth, to the Jew first and also to the Greek." (Romans 1:16).

However, even with all this possibility of sufficient power to perform that which is needful, moral, and ethical, many years ago a precedent was set which was the forerunner of a multitude of similar incidents. When Paul was called before the Roman governor Felix to plead his cause, he reasoned of righteousness, temperance and judgment to come. Felix with a trembling and fearful heart answered, "Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season I will call for thee." He offered the excuse of not having time, for the one thing his life needed.

Since that time scores of others have done the same thing, with exception perhaps that the excuses vary. For instance, some say that there is no God. But God says, "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth His handiwork." (Psalms 19:1). That which may be known of God is manifest in them." (Roman 1:19). Again, "getting saved" is foolishness. That is exactly what God has said that some would say. "For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness." (1 Cor. 1:18). Again, "I don't need to be saved." Yet God says "All have sinned and come short of the glory of God." (Roman 3:23) "He that believeth not is condemned already."

The program consisted of an inspirational address by the district governor after which there was entertainment of a lighter nature, consisting of much prestidigitation, legerdemain and plain sleight of hand tricks in which Member Holger Lund of the Clinton Gyros removed the vest of another Gyro-man without going through the

Mexican Victim of Inter-Union Labor Strife

Beyond collective bargaining, or hourly pay rates, or the merits of this plan of unionization or that, lies this Mexican worker. His hat and coat will not be needed again; soon someone else will tend the machine beside which he died. Labor union rivalry, carried to its last bitter conclusion, brought death to this factory at San Martin, Texmelucan, Mexico, when conflicting organizations, the Confederation of Workers of Mexico and the Regional Confederation of Mexican Workers, fought each other fiercely through the plant. Government troops had to quell the feud, and this man was one of eight who died.

(John 3:18). Again, "I am too sinful," God says "... he that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out." (John 6:37) "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have everlasting life." Again "If I professed, I couldn't live up to it." The Lord says "But as many as received Him to them gave He power to become the sons of God (John 1:12).

There is only one valid excuse, that is loving this world more than God. John says "Love not the world, neither the things in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him." (1 John 2:15).

GERALD JONES VISITED CHICAGO CLUB, CLINTON

The Clinton, Ia., Herald of Tuesday evening, April 13, contains the following article, pertaining to a visit of Attorney Gerald Jones of this city, district governor of Gyro clubs of this district:

Clinton Gyro-men entertained an Illinois district governor, Jerry Jones of Dixon, at their supper meeting last night in the Lafayette hotel. Mr. Jones brought along 12 of his own club members who were guests of the organization here.

The program consisted of an inspirational address by the district governor after which there was entertainment of a lighter nature, consisting of much prestidigitation, legerdemain and plain sleight of hand tricks in which Member Holger Lund of the Clinton Gyros removed the vest of another Gyro-man without going through the

THE COTTAGE VISITOR

Interesting New Publication Makes Appearance at Dixon State Hospital; Work of Wards

A very interesting publication, compiled, edited and printed by wards and employees at the Dixon state hospital, called "The Cottage Visitor," has made its appearance. That Telegraph readers may know more of the big institution north of the city, the following is reprinted from the current issue of the leaflet—the second to be published:

THE CODE OF SPORTSMANSHIP

Keep the rules.
Keep faith with your comrade.
Keep your temper.
Keep yourself fit.
Keep a stout heart in defeat.
Keep your pride under in victory.
Keep a sound soul, a clean mind and a healthy body.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Over 600 gallons of milk are pasteurized daily at our plant?
We are receiving a better balanced diet with more citrus fruits?
2,400 pounds of bread, 1,200 loaves, are made daily at our bakery? (Imagine eating all of that!)

The commissary is to be moved to the basement of the new employees' home?

Attractive furniture is being ordered for the new employees' building?

4,593 dresses were made in our sewing room last year?

There are to be new dress materials at the store: pretty rayons, voiles, dimities and attractive prints? And that a great many will be pre-shrunk, so that when they come back from the laundry they will be as good as new?

There are to be recreation rooms in the basement of two of the new buildings?

The laundry was an open air pavilion for two days in February while they were putting on a new roof?

The institution uses 70 tons of coal a day?

Eight new electric sewing machines have been installed in the mending room? Where formerly it had 7 single machines, it now has 10 on one shaft with but 2 single ones. The other three were given to the male and female supervising offices and the occupational therapy department, respectively.

Mr. Kiehl reports that he has 25,000 gladioli bulbs prepared to plant here on the grounds, and 5,000 to transfer to the other institutions? Seedlings are to begin in the near future.

Because of the building program, our nursery plot has been reduced to one-half its size and no other land has been found to replace it?

With the addition of so many new buildings our landscaping plan will have to be changed?

We have ordered our coal ahead of time in anticipation of a miners' strike?

SCHOOL NEWS

The B2 boys were disappointed in the corn and pumpkin which they planted for their farm project. The ears of corn were not as large as expected, and the pumpkins were all vines.

Hazel Welsh thought that spring was here when she saw the painted tulips blooming in the windows at school.

The girls in the third grade are learning how to write a good letter home. They are also making rugs for the doll house from their spool knitting. Michael Prignano has made furniture for the doll house. Geneva Jackson papered the doll house and put up the curtains. Alice Nicalse, Alice Hunt and Martha Eddy made scrapbooks of the Dionne quintuplets.

The smallest and youngest children are in the kindergarten department. Being deprived of a home, an attempt is made to create, as much as possible, a home-like atmosphere in the school room. A great deal of free play is allowed.

There are games of all kinds, stringing, picture books, and magazines, on Mondays, comic papers that have been collected over the weekend are greatly enjoyed by the children.

Since our project is "The Circus," a circus parade adorns the walls. The children know the animals of our circus, their habits, etc.

TRIPS

Dr. and Mrs. Fitz Jerrell had an interesting vacation this winter. Starting from Raymond, Ill., they drove through Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Arkansas, to Texas where they attended the Texas Centennial Exposition. In Kentucky they visited the birthplace of Lincoln.

In Arkansas they could see whole families of Negroes working in the cotton fields. The Negroes were doing their cooking in tall kettles. Their favorite meal was goulash, which was made by cooking a whole chicken together with vegetables in an iron kettle.

In March, Dr. Farrell and Dr. Hart went on a fishing trip to Tampico, Mexico. From Monterey to Tampico they took a local train for 250 miles. Traveling second class, chickens and pigs accompany their owners just as here we might take our cats or dogs with us. It accept a fine nursing position in Birmingham, Ala.

It seems that Cupid had a very successful season since the last issue of this paper. Miss Grehel Rickets is now Mrs. H. L. Clawson; Miss Martha Moss has become Mrs. J. W. Steele; and Miss Elarea Leavitt is now Mrs. John Fisher. We wish them much luck and happiness.

Ralph Cook was married on Dec. 19, 1936. His wife is the former Mary Schnell of Dixon. Ralph's fondness for good home cooking was a strong reason for the final step.

Dr. and Mrs. Radef are now living in Kirkland, Ill., where Dr. Radef is in private practice. From all reports business is good. We hope that the doctor and Mrs. Radef are very happy in their new home. They left many friends here.

We were very sorry to have Mrs. Watters leave, and sincerely hope she will enjoy her new position at East Moline. Good luck to her. We are fortunate in having Mrs. Skogevik so capably filling the vacancy at the Boys' O. T.

DRAMATICS

Since the last issue of this paper, we have enjoyed several dramatic and musical productions: "News Hi-Lites, The Boonville Band Concert, and the Dixon Choir of 1887."

Parts have been assigned for a three-act play, "Papa, Behave," a comedy to be presented by members of the boys' English class.

THE BUILDING PROGRAM

There are fourteen buildings in the process of construction. Foundations are laid for the administration and detention buildings. The new administration building will house the business offices, the medical staff, chief nurse, the stenographic force, record clerk and information clerk. There will be an enlarged switchboard and an improved section for the distribution of mail. In the basement which is under only a part of the building the records, that are not needed daily, will be kept.

The female employees' building has been inspected and turned over to the institution. The death of Edward Dawson, chief clerk, on March 3, leaves the institution with a distinct loss. Mr. Dawson was one of those rare public servants who treated the property of the state as if it were his own and directed the spending of the state's money in the same way. He was unstinting in the giving of personal service and no matter how busy he might be, he always was ready to help anyone with his particular problem.

Mr. Dawson was a pointed chief clerk at the Jacksonville state hospital in October, 1917, and was transferred here in December, 1919. He served the state of Illinois well for almost 20 years.

There are numerous coffee plantations near Mexico City. Coffee trees will not grow in the sun so other trees must be planted to afford adequate shade for them. The vegetation is very beautiful. It is a semi-tropical region which makes all of their flowers bigger and more beautiful than ours.

Frances Roberts is seriously considering the opening of an aviary and an aquarium so no one will be deprived of enjoying her pet gold fish, turtles and canaries.

ATHLETICS

Basketball 1936-1937

During this season we had five different leagues. In each of these leagues the race was very close and the winner was not determined until the last game, two requiring a play-off.

Champions

Cottage league A-9—Yankees.
Class A—Flosters.
Class B—Senators.
Class C—Cubs.
Tournament—Giants.
Tournament—Giants.

Baseball and Softball

Two leagues will likely be formed in hard ball, one of veteran players and one of beginners. Patient teams will be matched against the employees.

A regular soft ball diamond is being planned. It will be laid out on the newly filled ground behind the laundry. Cottage teams will form this league. As the players become skilled in the handling of the ball, etc., they will be promoted to one of the hard ball teams.

TRAILER ADVENTURE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Feeling, with the help of GERARD NEAL, to locate her companion, BETTY, MARSHA, who had been taken up the west coast. She faces a critical problem since she is torn between love of Neal and her better judgment.

Suddenly at a small California town she casts her aside and has Neal arrested, charged with complicity in Betty's disappearance. Then Marsha speeds on in Portland where she learns a JOHNNY CIZNIK, underworld character of Seattle, seems to be involved in Betty's case. Police hint that Betty may have been murdered.

Arriving in Seattle, still searching for Betty, Marsha gets a letter at the Yukon parking block from ARNOLD SLOSS, head of the Alaskan Trailer Company, ordering her to turn over her equipment to a designated agent who would meet her there. The agent is Speddon and he slugs Marsha, binds and gags her and leaves her in an abandoned dock warehouse to recover.

Later Speddon arrives, tells Marsha that she is to see Betty. Then she is loaded into a new boat and chloroformed. Her last thought as she lapses into unconsciousness is that she has become involved in some gigantic crime ring.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XX

HER head splitting with pain that came in fierce rhythmic strokes, like the force of a metal piston, Marsha opened her eyes.

She lay on a blanketed berth, and at first she believed that she was regaining consciousness in a hotel room. The slight rolling of the berth she attributed to her nauseating illness — and then, gradually, she realized that she was aboard a ship.

She remembered, now, the speedboat bouncing over the moonlit waters of the Sound, remembered the lights of Seattle crowning its seven hills. She remembered, too, that huge bulk coming toward her with the white cloth in his hand. Speddon had remonstrated with her. "What was that?" "There's no need for that ... she's not going to jump overboard." Nevertheless the damp rag of chloroform had been clamped over her mouth and nose.

Her assailant had said, "I'm working for Johnny Ciznik ..."

Painfully she rolled her eyes to take in the stateroom. The walls were white steel, painted over many times, yet the rivets stood out plainly. She saw no portholes anywhere, and guessed that the ship must be of good size, that probably her stateroom was below the waterline. The single door was of steel, and the lock looked heavy. She knew instinctively that it was bolted, that there was no need of her getting up to try it.

From somewhere beyond the wall came the sound of throbbing engines. They were under way!

State Hospital

By "UNCLE BUD"

David and Alta Burns have been transferred from the day force to the night shift.

John Reuter and your correspondent returned to duty yesterday after spending the week end with their families in Antioch.

Rehearsals for the farce comedy "Papa Behave" are well underway. The play is a farce in three acts and will be presented soon by the members of the boys' English class. The play is being produced under the general supervision of Miss C. Constance Wipper, director of recreation.

Lloyd Phelps is also associated with Miss Wipper in charge of the production.

The second issue of "The Cottage Visitor" as the hospital paper is now known, made its appearance yesterday. The issue is crammed full of news about the hospital written in an attractive style. It is a distinct improvement over the first issue. Grateful acknowledgement is made on page one of the courtesy of the editor of The Telegraph in loaning the hospital, print shop type used in printing the title.

We gladly join with the many employees we have heard doing so in complimenting the artistic taste used by whoever chose the new drapes recently installed in the employees dining room. The drapes are blue and coupled with the brown and cream paint job recently completed make an effect most pleasing to the eye.

We noticed Paul Hepfer and his detail busy engaged in putting the grounds about the new nurses' home in apple pie order yesterday.

A softball diamond will be laid out on the newly filled ground behind the laundry we learn. It will be used by a league made up of cottage teams. As the players progress in skill it is planned to promote them to one of the hard ball teams that are soon to take the field. As was the case last year, baseball activities will be under the direction of Lloyd Phelps of the recreation department.

Because of the building program now underway it has been necessary to reduce the nursery plot to one-half its former size and Head Florist Enos Kietheley so far has been unable to find land to replace that lost.

Night Policeman James Cianfone spent his weekly day off yesterday in Freeport.

Dr. Z. T. Glatter of the staff was the lecturer at the attendants' school of instruction yesterday. As usual the class was divided into two sections. Dr. Glatter's subject was "Burns and Scalds" and What to Do For Them.

All attendants met with Miss Rose Whipp, chief nurse yesterday afternoon to hear her discuss certain new regulations about uniforms for employees.

Alva and Mrs. Krider will entertain 25 of the members of the Glee club of the Western State Teachers college at their home in Galva this Saturday. The club which is now on tour sings in Kewanee Sunday. Mr. Krider's son, Merle is one of the soloists of the organization.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

The BOBOLINK'S SONG

TRANSLATED INTO "WORDS," READS:

"OH GEEZELER, GEEZELER, GILIPITY, QNKELER, COZELER, OO."

THE WITCH-HAZEL

BEARS BOTH ITS FLOWERS AND FRUIT IN AUTUMN.

IN THE FROZEN AREAS OF GRANT LAND, FACING THE POLAR SEA, SCIENTISTS HAVE DISCOVERED SEVENTY-FIVE KINDS OF PLANTS, FIVE SPECIES OF BUTTERFLIES, AND TWO SPECIES OF BUMBLEBEES.

AVERAGE SUMMER TEMPERATURE THERE IS 34° ABOVE; AVERAGE WINTER TEMP, 36° BELOW!

WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT'S interpretation of the bobolink's song, "Bobolink, bobolink; spink, spank, spink," does not do justice to the bubbling, liquid notes of the bird, but it has brought the bobolink into the lives of millions of children, and made "Robert" a real personage.
